The Trial Benefits

Access to the latest technology

Seize the opportunity to trial the latest technology cost effectively.

Try before you buy

Trialling BlackBerry ensures this is the right solution to match your business requirements.

Training

Full training will be given during the trial so your users get the most out of their BlackBerry.

BlackBerry gives your office workers a real wireless communications solution that enables them to convert down time to productive time while they're out of the office. BlackBerry gives users secure, real-time access to their emails, the Internet and calendar wherever they are. They can also access applications such as the popular Telmap satellite navigation system or Rove Mobile Admin that allows remote network administration.

BlackBerry provides a seamless extension to your existing email system. It stays connected to your company mail server throughout the day, so you can read and respond to your emails even though you're away from the office. Its quad-band functionality long battery life also make it the perfect travel companion. It couldn't be easier to use!
